

I Want To Hear You

Verse 1

F#m                      C#m
Father, how can you forgive me?

                    D                                      Dm
I turned my back on you again, I know it causes you such pain

                    F#m                                      C#m
But Father, I have to come home now

                    D                                      Dm
You said that I'd be welcome there; I can't believe you really care

Chorus

A                                      E/G#
I want to hear you, I want to see you

A7/G                                      D/F#                                      Dm/F
I want to hold your hands and look into your smiling face

A                                      E/G#
I need to know you; I have to trust you

A7/G                                      D/F#                                      Dm/F
I want to give you every part of me that's mine to give

Verse 2

Father, I'm here to say sorry

All that you gave I threw away, but I am coming home today

(and) Father, you're running to meet me

I don't deserve a single thing, just seeing you makes my heart sing
